

one of the modern ways of transport is air transport air transport is a fast means of transport aeroplanefly very fast an aeroplane is a type of air transport transport is moving people are things from one place to another place

M.Kanishka

it flies in the sky

it is invented by wright brothers global air transportion the ir hotess treats the passengers cordially aeroplane wings and tail it flies high in the sky feel like a butterfly on the flight iam

experience on the another place

Does

What behavior have we observed? What can we imagine them doing?

Feels

What are their fears, frustrations, and anxieties? What other feelings might influence their behavior?

